Element delivered a full office refurbishment to modernise the workspace, improve efficiency, and support future growth.

The client's 20-year-old office needed a complete refresh. Existing cabling and power were outdated, HVAC units were inefficient, and the overall décor no longer reflected the company's brand image.

We delivered a fully managed refurbishment programme, coordinating multiple service lines under one project lead:

Element installed Cat6 cabling throughout, ensuring fast, reliable connectivity to support hybrid working. We reconfigured and upgraded power distribution, adding additional outlets and underfloor boxes for flexible desk layouts.

We also supplied and fitted modern, energy-efficient air conditioning units to improve air quality, thermal comfort, and reduce energy costs.

We also completed a full interior refresh.

Outcomes

- Reduced energy consumption by 25% through upgraded HVAC.
- Improved network performance with new structured cabling.
- Flexible power solutions enabled hot-desking and agile working.
- Staff satisfaction increased, with post-project feedback citing a "professional, modern, and comfortable office environment."
